4 EXPLANATION OF HOW COMMENTS HAVE BEEN TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT

During International Stake holder consultation, we received one comment dated 25th October (the same day project was uploaded). The comment received did not mention any thing about the project. It mentioned about the link which did not work at that point of time, the technical reason is beyond our control as the project was on UNFCCC web. However the project document was accessible subsequently. No such comments were received there after; this implies that it could also be a localised connectivity problem.

Site visit and local stake holder consultation has been undertaken. The local assessor met few local people ('Sarpanch'- head of village's elected representatives), local villagers etc. and did not find any adverse comment about the project. They are happy with the project as it would help in their economic upliftment through increased opportunities for employment.
